

There Must Be Love

David Morales & Janice Robinson

There are mountains and tribulation, moments and trepidations,
There will be day so tryin but in The end there is love
There are minutes and decades of stories
Triumph and glory
There will be days so fill with joy
But in The end there is love
There are oceans of teardrops
Heartbreaking and your life stops
There will be times of think sorrow
But in The end there is love.
Love it is there, it is yours
IT is power
Love when it hurts
when it heals
When it shadows
Love when you can't
When you're down
Love will never leave you
Love when you feel
When you're lost and you're broken
Love when you cry
Feel alone
Just love with The pain
Love with The shame
Love trough your darkest days
There must be.
There must be love x8
There are windows of windsom
Wake up pose? You must listen
There all The tips?
Untest The mornins'
But in The end there is love
There are weakin ones
Who try to steal your hope
Evil ones try to drag your soul
There is The light
That you must see
Cause in The end There must be love
Love it is there

It is yours
It is power
Love, when it hurts
When it heals
When it shadows
Love when you can't
When you're down
Love will never leave you
Love when you feel
When you're lost and you're broken
Love when you cry
Feel alone
Just love with The pain
Love with The shame
Love through your darkest days
There must be...
There must be love x8
I wanna go (higher)
Take me, take me (higher)
