

German. Jewish.

Ghost of the Robot

I'm German, you're Jewish
How could we ever make it through this?
I've got this problem, that seems to linger
Everytime I find myself around your finger
This would make more sence, in another time
Not in America where we're westernized
But if we were, what would I do
What would I have said to what we've gone through? War won't stop me, I'm no Nazi That's why i'd never tell
If you were fighting, surviving hiding Behind an old bookshelf I'm German, you're Jewish
How could we ever make it through this?
I've got this problem, that seems to linger
Everytime I find myself around your finger you've always been above, in some higher class
i'm just a small rockstar, you're an actress what could i say, to ever prove to you that there can be a love between a German and a Jew?
