

From a Hole in the Wall

Graveyard

Can you hear a big bird singing
Somewhere in the black of your mind
It's loud enough to make you wonder
Can I please hear it one more time
Saying I'll never leave you
Call me and I'm on my way
Somehow I can always see you
And I can feel you in me everyday
You say you travel on a winding road
It's long enough to wrap you up
How can you tell if it's real
The way it touches is sure hard to feel
Too much of nothing can hurt you
And too little hurt even worse
I wonder if I'll ever get to you
Or if you'll have to get to me first
Into the street of the city
Where we don't have to think so hard
And we don't have to worry now do we
Just look at the world from a hole in the wall
While on your way to see a troubled friend
You loose your way and never see her again
I think I know how it feels
The way it touches is sure hard to feel
Too much of nothing can hurt you
And too little hurt even worse
I wonder if I'll ever get to you
Or if you'll have to get to me first
Into the street of the city
Where we don't have to think so hard
And we don't have to worry now do we
Just look at the world from a hole in the wall
Look and see a sky is forming
Holding so many rains
It makes you feel real lonely
And the feeling is like a ball and chain
Down on the street of the city
Where you don't have to think so hard
You don't have to worry now do you
Just look at the world from a hole in the wall
You put in the back of your head now
Save it for another time
And when it gets to heavy to carry
You may always put it down on mine
I promise I'll never leave you
Call me and I'm on my way
Somehow I can always see you
And I can feel you in me everyday

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>