Sorrow

Out Cold

Let's pin our hopes on a rusty rail
When the suburbs sleeping and the city's all fists and fingernails
I don't wanna be alone
I don't wanna be

Love turns sour it don't belong
Don't waste your crying on the prying eyes and the poison tongues
I don't wanna be alone
I don't wanna be

Since I lay my sorrow down
I've seen darkness drifting down the line

Lipstick lovers in the sequinned hearts
Teetering heels of the high rise dancing in the dark
I don't wanna be alone
I don't wanna be

Let's raise our faces in the broad daylight
My soft skin disco dancer take me out tonight
I don't wanna be alone
I don't wanna be

Since I lay my sorrow down
I've seen darkness drifting down the line, the line

Loving you it ain't a crime
