Dark Light

Eha

Shivers run through the spine
Of hope as she cries
The poisoned tears of a life denied
In the raven-black night
Holding hands withDark light
Come, shine in her lost heart tonight
And blind
All fears that haunt her with your smile
Dark lightIn oblivions garden, her body's on fire
Writhing to towards the angel defiled
And to learn how to die
In peace with her GodDark light
Come, shine in her lost heart tonight
And blind
All fears that haunt her with your smile
Dark lightDark light
Come, shine in her lost heart tonight
And blind
All fears that haunt her with your smileDark light
Come, shine in her lost heart tonight
And blind
All fears that haunt her with your smile
Dark light
