

Emotional Thing

Shakespear's Sister

I've seen the world from a first class seat
I've read the bitch and Ulysses
I've tried religion and philosophy
I've walked upon the sea Now the air is getting thin
You make my senses start to swim
It's just a suicidal whim but I can't resist An emotional thing, an emotional thing
An emotional thing, an emotional thing Now isolation can be sweet
No juvenile delinquent heat
I don't have to tell ya where I'm coming from
If I leave my cat suit on Now the air is getting thin
You make my senses start to spin
It's just a suicidal whim but I can't resist An emotional thing, an emotional thing
An emotional thing, an emotional thing Now the air is getting thin
You make my senses start to spin
Now the air is getting thin
You make my senses start to spin
It's just a suicidal whim but I can't resist An emotional thing, an emotional thing
