Mr. Alien

Brian Mcfadden

From a world that I call home
To a place I've never known
I may seem a little strange
But I know I'm not alone
I've been living in a maze
Now I'm running out of space
While they're hiding in the side
I'll be bathing in the shade
Thought this was always my disguise
Love shined a brand new light
It starts to form the skies
But she said
Hey Mr. Alien
I'm willing to let you in
Cause I see a different man that they don't know
And they don't understand
Mr. Alien
I don't care about where you've been
There's no need to be afraid
Just follow me into this foreign land
From across the great divide
You were sent to be my guide
And you took me by the hand
Led me to the other side
Now I'm higher than I've ever been
And I feel my soul awakening
Making it exposed
As the sun comes pouring in hought this was always my disguise
Love shined a brand new light

It starts to form the skies
But she said
Hey Mr. Alien
I'm willing to let you in
Cause I see a different man that they don't know
And they don't understand
Mr. Alien
I don't care about where you've been

There's no need to be afraid
Just follow me into this foreign land
Hey Mr. Alien
I'm willing to let you in
Cause I see a different man that they don't know
And they don't understand
Mr. Alien
I don't care about where you've been
There's no need to be afraid
Just follow me into this foreign land
Hey Mr. Alien
I'm willing to let you in
Cause I see a different man that they don't know
And they don't understand
Mr. Alien
I don't care about where you've been
There's no need to be afraid
Just follow me into this foreign land
Hey Mr. Alien
Mr. Alien
Mr. Alien
Hey Mr. Alien
