

What I See

Michael Lowman

it seems like the world has come undone and so much is said, so little done its in the hands of you and me to leave behind a legacy a home for those to come the politicians of this world don't own ya they're breeding lies it's their disguise persona its up to you to make a choice so go ahead and use your voice the time to stand is now cause theirs still fields that cover up the pain its where the children play and wars forced upon man cause i believe in what i see not what i see today there's gotta be an easier way if everyone agrees to peace and equality for all its not so hard to realize the truth its not so hard to empathize with you

I'm counting back the years to when that i last saw somebody hold a strangers hand its time we put the past aside and read between the lines and oh its time we made a way for a change cause i see children holding up the guns they can barely lift the weight of the solider they've become

its not so hard to compromise the truth
