Corporal Jigsore Quandary

Carcass

Excised and anatomized, Deviscerated disarray
The torso diverged with pride
Deftly amputated, avulsed limbs now defunct
The trunk imbrued, tatty stumps used as lungs
For a chondrin puzzle so quaint
Head and body decollate
A heavy mass so quiescent...Scattered and scrambled, your teasement grows
- A bloody caricature to make whole
A squirming grisly jigsaw, detrital fragments fit so snug
- That missing piece will leave you stumped
Totally disassembled, nicely sliced and diced
-A cold mannequin once resembled
Real cranium teaser, carved from flesh and bone
So mystifying...Battered and diffused, with placating blows
- A human jigsaw to make whole
A sequacious pattern which once fitted so snug
- Joining together each dubious lump
Ravaged disassembly, neatly cubed and diced
- A cold mannequin reassembled
Astute brain teaser, incorporate flesh and bone
So mortifying...An incessant game - methodically made
With each cumulative piecing - of commensated meatBi-manual reconstruction, eldritch problem complete
A convented effigy,
A pathological toy, Each chunk rigorously
Iinter mortis locking, As you pathogenically rot
Such a perplexing task
To fit the remains in the casket
Uliginous mess so quiescent...[Lead: Human Jigsaw by W.G. Steer]
[Lead: A Heaving Organic Puzzle by M. Amott]An incessant game - methodically made
With each cumulative piece - of commensated meat...
