The Away Days

Just take the other way,
It feels like home again,
Like the other way,
It feels like home again. Could it seem so frightened after all that you've become
But i'll forget and i'll forgive what you've done now. Just take the other way,
It feels like home again,
Like the other way,
It feels like home again. No it's only questions and fire
And after all that you've become
But i'll forget and i'll forgive
Why would you "hide and seek"? It's truth.
But i'll forget and i'll forgive for what you've done,
Freaking out the sunset clown,
So why'd we try so hard to take it back to it's home?
