Woman

BarrabÃ¡s

I'm a woman, you're a man
Was I put here for you?
I'm much closer, you're much further
Away, away
And I never quite seem to understand
Why a woman never needs a man
'Cause a man never understands
You never want to tell me why
I always have to let it by
I always have to take a ride
Always have to drive apart
So men, you try to understand
Understand
You're a man, just a man
I'm a woman, understand
God only knows, God don't assure
What became, he knows the men
And I never quiet seem to understand
Why a woman never needs a man
'Cause a man never understands
You never want to tell me why
I always have to let it by
I always have to take a ride
Always have to drive apart
So men, you try to understand
Understand
