

Back Into My Life

UFO

It's another night out on the avenue
Lookin' for somethin', somethin' that you knew
And you're wonderin' where she is Now there's, now there's no more rendezvous You're left out here on this cold stark street
With the sound of lovers as they tango and meet
Their sweet surrender with a promise and a kiss
Where's that girl the one you miss Those ooh la la la girls in their skirts they go rushin' by
They look around and give you that come on
With their dreamy, dreamy eyes Then you never stop to count your mistakes
That one blind moment with no give and take
Is lost in every stranger's face you see
If there's a loser that loser's me Please put a little love back into my life
Won't you please put a little love back into my life Every night's another night you keep lookin' back
Trying to fill the spaces
Hours and minutes and the missin' gaps But you're left out here on this cold stark street
With the sound of lovers as they tango and meet
Their sweet surrender with a promise and a kiss
Where's that girl the one you miss Please put a little love back into my life
Won't you please put a little love back into my life Every shadow's like a ghost that comes and haunts you
Angel of the night plays her tricks these days, it's true
With every step, every step you see her slip away
Not just today It's another night out on the avenue
Lookin' for somethin', somethin' that you knew Left out here on this cold stark street
With the sound of lovers as they tango and meet
Their sweet surrender with a promise and a kiss
Where's that girl the one you miss Please put a little love back into my life
Won't you please put a little love back into my life
Please put a little love back into my life, into my life
Won't you please put a little love back into my life You got to, got to, got to
Please put a little love back into my life
Please put a little love back into my life
