

Thank You For The Good Times (rare unrel)

Oasis

Who will rise ?

It would be so nice to hear you say

"Thank you for the good times"

Before the good times fly away

Your eyes

Are telling lies

Some of the stories on the way

But it's so nice

But don't let the good times fly awayI drink to every sucker standing here

Among the few who try and cheat the years

There's always one of us who's blown away

Or strapped and stopped for breath along the wayWho will rise?

It would be so nice to hear you say

"Thank you for the good times"

Before the good times fly awayI drink to every sucker standing here

Among the few who try and cheat the years

There's always one of us who's blown away

Or strapped and stopped for breath along the wayWho will rise?

It would be so nice to hear you say

"Thank you for the good times"

Before the good times fly awayThank you for the good times

Before the good times fly awayThank you for the good times
