Growing Apart

Gene Watson

When we first started on our way through love
We thought we were two of a kind
We thought forever was just you and me
And always a matter of timeTime has a way of changin' it's mind
We're givin' on each others heart
Our love grew till it ran out of room
Now it looks like we're growing apartWe had a mountain of our very own
That turned out we just couldn't climb
We've just been waiting for something to give
And we've been standing in lineTime has a way of changin' it's mind
We're givin' on each others heart
Our love grew till it ran out of room
Now it looks like we're growing apart
