

All of Us

Slowdive

[Verse 1:]

As soon as You stepped through my door,
I saw You for the first time all over again.
And time well spent seems
Lonelier than the way it used to go. I smell You for the first time all over again
I'll begin to remember to (feel it)?
So if you don't mind
I think I'll wear my heart on my sleeve,
'Cause I'm tired of not being able to breathe. [Chorus:]
All of us are searching for an open arm.
Well, it's a shame how I curl up in the dark
When it's the same old word giving me the spark. [Verse 2:]
I failed the lost
For some time I slipped, stumbled,
But fell face first straight
In Your hand.
Then I hit my head on Your palm
And wakened up to the smell of
Tears drying up in the sand. [Chorus][Bridge:]
I washed my wounds with tears of hope.
I washed my wounds with tears of hope.
I just ... All of us are searching for an open arm
Well, it's a shame how I pull myself apart.
When it's the same words making me run for cover to
Your arms.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>