Laughing at the Floor

Penguin Prison

It's always everybody else's fault
So just take anything that you want
And someday you could teach a lesson on
How you could wait all your life
Thinking that the wrong side wonJust say that you figured out your soul
I don't think anybody has to know
You just make everybody else look bored
You can wait all your life
Looking at the wrong time you know
If you see me down in the water
Will you help me get ashore
Please don't ask me too many questions
I'm just laughing at the floorJust say that you figured out your soul
I don't think anybody has to know
You just make everybody else look bored
You can wait all your life
Looking at the wrong time you knowIf you see me down in the water
Will you help me get ashore
Please don't ask me too many questions
I'm just laughing at the floor
You can feel it
It's already over
But I'm not afraid at all
No more questions
It don't even matter
We won't be here anymore
