

No Matter What You Say

The Planet Smashers

Question marks in the dark
Making hard to start, always never knowing
Suddenly I can see how the path lies for me
It's time to get going I perceive your concern and I try to relate
You say I should be staying
You resist and insist telling me to beware
Like you've already been there No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'll do it anyway I say, to each his own when all's told
It is wrong not to recognize this
I'm aware of your advice, I really do understand
I hear what you're saying No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'll do it anyway No more misunderstanding
I won't be caught demanding
For your reassurance
'Cause it has no consequence No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say, I'll do it anyway No matter what you say
No matter what you say
No matter what you say
No matter what you say
