Obsidian Kingdom

Read the signs
Don't flash your hidden vows
Written in the skyline
Deep in the city's plansI'm talking covers of magazines
A flagship for the company
Lovers and cocaine
A chunk of the population wiped outYou only back the rules because you're winningWho are we?
It's our party we can do what we want
Endless power, the love we can devour
And when we go crashing down we come back every timeStakes are sky high
The game is rigged but still worth a try
Figures astronomic, baby
Slaves at your commandSo how about living effortlessly
And a vow of silence and sex magic
A reasonable tyranny
And half of you motherfuckers wiped outA glossed-over version of realityI'll be on my suit & tie, shit tied, shit
Like I'm the only one who knows your heart
Make me your one and only
As long as you love me
I'll be your silver
I'll be your gold
