And see if he will loan us something, soon as he hits the dough.
Put the cat out in the hall and rumple up the room
Go by Doctor Keller, tell him you swollowed some perfume
Tell him we need him quick, uz he may to testify
That you been sick all day and that a perfect alibiGo, let Danny drive in case you run into the Man
Back by the shop and get the stuff and hide it in the van
Go back by your father, get the money for the bail
And bring it down and bail me out this rotten, funky jail
