Only You

Daryl Ong

Girl, from the moment I saw your face
All I could do was to wish for the day
That we would meet again

And maybe something new could begin

Girl, who would have thought that it would come true
It seems unreal I found my way to you
Cause you were only in my dreams
Now I'm saying these words to you

The scent of your hair, the touch of your skin
Makes my world end and my life begin
Listen to me when I say these words are true
Waited all my life to be right here with you
No one in this world could make me feel this way
Only you... Only you...

Now, years gone by and I still feel the same
This heart of mine will always beat your name
And forever I'll be here beside you
Sharing the laughter and pain

I'll always be by your side cause without you girl
My world will fall apart
So listen to me when I say these words are true
Waited all my life for this dream to come true
No one in this world could make me feel this way
Only you... Only you..
