Dead By Sunrise

No need to hear your voice or see your face To know that you are with me No need to kiss your lips or hold your hand To know that you can feel me I know that you can feel meWhen I look to the stars I know just where you are You're looking down upon meWhen I look to the stars I know just where you are You're looking down upon meNo need to get locked up inside the past I know it isn't changing No need to let you go or say goodbye I know that you'll be waiting I know that you'll be waitingWhen I look to the stars I know just where you are You're looking down upon meWhen I look to the stars I know just where you are You're looking down upon meOn the other side On the other sideI've got to find a way To keep my pain from burning Down to the boneI've got to find a way To keep my pain from burning Down to the bone Down to the boneWhen I look to the stars I know just where you are You're looking down upon meWhen I look to the stars I know just where you are
