

Who Do You Think You Are

Kim Wilde

A long time ago, you promised yourself
They're all gonna know me someday
Well, you got what you wanted but look at you now
You lost something good on the way
So where did it go? Tell me, where did it go?
But you wouldn't know Snap your fingers and somebody runs
You don't care how they feel just as long as they come
Got your head in the stars, now you've come this far
Just who do you think you are? Now everything seems to be going your way
And everyone loves what they see
But you ruin it all with the things that you say
So tell me, how does it feel?
When you're all alone, how does it feel?
You're alone, nothing is real Snap your fingers and somebody runs
You don't care how they feel just as long as they come
Got your head in the stars, now you've come this far
Just who do you think you are? You believe a ridiculous lie
You can't see you've become all the things you despise
But I know who you are and you've gone too far
Just who do you think you are? You can keep all your dreams
But you don't have to lose yourself
'Cause one day, you're gonna break
When the face in the mirror looking back at you
Is a stranger that you can't place, oh, oh
Just who do you think you are? Snap your fingers and somebody runs
You don't care how they feel just as long as they come
Got your head in the stars, now you've come this far
Just who do you think you are? You believe a ridiculous lie
You can't see you've become all the things you despise
But I know who you are and you've gone too far
Just who do you think you are?
Oh, oh, oh, just who do you think you are?
