

On The Palette

Qypthone

Do you want orange tea or lemon flavored tea?
I hope that when I sing, you dream a fairytale
We'll spend our day together
I'll be there when you need me
I hope I can make you feel so nice

Why don't I add a dash of red or cobalt blue?
The emptiness I once knew is replaced by you
All of our time together
I know love is forever
I'm sure that you'd feel the same way, too

I paint, you cannot hide for long
Here... you are right here, slowly drying

When I paint for you
The colors on the canvas call me
Emptiness around me
Disappears and makes me happy
I know you are with me

Do you remember when we sailed the ocean blue?
You told me that I was the only one for you
My heart remains so true, too
There's only one of you
I know that we'll go sailing in our dreams

I feel you are nearby to me
Now I paint for you
Palette opens

When I paint for you
The colors on the canvas call me
Emptiness around me
Disappears and makes me happy

I can paint the voices of the past on to the canvas
Yesterday is here today because now is forever
I know you are with me

When I paint for you
The colors on the canvas call me
Emptiness around me
Disappears and makes me happy

I can paint the voices of the past on to the canvas
Yesterday is here today because now is forever
I know you are with me
I know love's a painting
