

Waking Up Is a Letdown

Michael McFarland

when you close your eyes as you lie in your bed at night do you dream of a scene from a better life and when you pray do you say, let me get it right while I do, I do, and this songs for you did you regret when you settled for good enough I know you knew, yeah you knew it, you shouldnt've and so you swore to adore what you couldnt love and for now, for now, waking ups a letdown so make up your mind and start today at living your life a whole new way if you cant decide to start to swim youll drown so give it a chance, it just might scare you get up and dance, and let me dare you give up your plans, and lets just leave this town where waking up is a letdown and did you learn from the turns that you didnt take cause you were flat on your back from the give and take and now youre out of the vows that you wouldnt break but still now, still now waking ups a letdown and falling asleep comes easily tonight

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>