The Crash

The Pale Pacific

We know of your recent loss We heard it from a mutual friend it's like flying over a crash site the wreckage of you everywhere We've looked up to you for so many years and shaped our lives from the words that you said but now you're throwing it out the window and I've never been so let down in all of my life You make friendship sound like war is hope still there if love isn't anymore? Say, say, say it still works Say, say, say it still works You said "get it right the first time don't make the same mistakes and guard your heart like treasure and use resolve to reveal the lies" You make friendship sound like war is hope still there if love isn't anymore? Say, say, say it still works Say, say, say it still works You made mistakes, and that's okay you let it go On the good days you joke and laugh and we forget how sad you are and on the bad days your bitterness makes you glow like a sun distractions work for only so long soon you wonder if you were wrong it's awkward to ask but how can we help you? Say, say, say it still works Say, say, say it still works Say, say, say it still

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/