A BREATH OF SUNSHINE

Scary Kids Scaring Kids

Lost myself in an endless goodnight
Kept the time by the patterns of the streetlight
Couldn't get it right, I could never get it rightSadly, this is a wasted conversation
Lost on you, lost on you
This is a test of my patience
Your blue eyes are so cruelI can't escape all the things we've said
I've taken years off my life with the weight of regret
Now there's nothing left
There is nothing left to loseShouldn't I feel alright?
I swear that I tried to be alright
To sleep at night
Shouldn't I feel alright?The night fades with a breath of sunshine
I'll do my best to adjust to the morning light
I can't keep my place
(I can't keep my place)
Feels like I've been awake for daysSadly, you turn away, now I'm faced
With the harsh truth, the harsh truth
My cold heart is a place
Where true love cannot bloomShouldn't I feel alright?
I swear that I tried to be alright
To sleep at night
Shouldn't I feel alright?There's static on the airwaves
I'll try to find the light through all of this haze
I can't find the words that I'm trying to say
So try to forget me as I walk awayWell, there's static on the airwaves
(Well, there's static on the airwaves)
(We'll shine, to fine, why waste the same)
Well, there's static on the airwaves
(Well, there's static on the airwaves)
(We'll shine, to fine, why waste the same)
Try to forget me as I walk awayShouldn't I feel alright?
I swear that I tried to be alright
To sleep at nightShouldn't I feel alright?
I swear that I tried to be alright
To sleep at night
Shouldn't I feel alright?
