A Little Too Much

Yellow Rage

Sometimes it hits like car crash
And it's too late to reverse
Sometimes you make me a better person
Sometimes you bring out the worst
Sometimes we get on like fire
Sometimes we're stubborn like rain
Just when I think that it's over, over
You wave a white flag again
Ah, ah, we fall out then we fall back in
Ah, ah, we're always back where we begin
Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
It's wonderful to fall, let's love and risk it all
I'd rather love just a little too much
Sometimes we're trapped in a circle
' Til we're digging holes in the ground
We try but nothing is working
But still I want you around
'Cause if I'm lost in the desert

I know somehow you'll find me
And if I drown in the ocean
You'll be the first to rescue me
Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
It's wonderful to fall, let's love and risk it all
I'd rather love just a little too much
Whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa
Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
Ah, ah, we fall out then we fall back in
Ah, ah, we're always back where we begin
Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
It's wonderful to fall, let's love and risk it all
Even if it hurts just a little too much
I'd rather love just a little too much

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/