Back To The Worms

Cryptopsy

imagine every living thing forever accompanied by an alter dimensional being phantom pain brought on by the wounding of each individual's extracorporeal entity in this violent day and age we greatly fear their coming rage what technology has done forced apart what once was one electropsychic and highly psychotic as, unlike an aura, it thinks for itself inseparable in schizoid existence once inexorably linked with our own relationship of symbiotic nature unbeknownst to human half of dual creature as the phantom empaths whose pain is intense learn from the cold voice of experience mass exodus in an invisible flood externalization spills torrents of a blood man has ended his three-dimensional term they came from the worms let them go back to the worms
