Mary

Elenowen

We sat and ate at his table
We wept for we knew he was going away
And six days later he'd be goneI saw Mary standing at his side
With tears flowing down
She broke the bottle open
And it flowed down to his feetEven though many didn't see
Why Mary was at his feet
She was doing the very thing
He wantedAs she wiped with her hair
The perfume filled the air
And the house was anointed with a kingEven though many didn't see
Why Mary was at his feet
She was doing the very thing
He wanted
