Illusions

Dark At Dawn

Don't matter, honey, if you are dead most time you've already spent in bed your search hast just reached my call the answer doesn't wait there at allmy deepest wishes take their form in dreams the future is confirmed the prediction of the uncertainty has never failed its unknown targetThe emotions have jsut gone through my head amnesia possibly may stay knowing how to make someone amenable's nearly everythingIllusions of yesterday - tomorrow's reality? today's memories of forgotten timesImaginations fly to the sky clearing my mind of the thoughts I've tried to think seems as a normal word but have you really ever tried?
