Shake It Off

Wilco

Sunlight angles on
Wooden floor at dawn
A ceiling fan is on Chopping up my dreamsWhat is left of them
I take to sleep again
Where I dare pretend
I'm more than I seemTears get triggered
Yours remind me
Of the ice
Melting in my glassFinally full again
So I listen for
Your lips to break apart
Into wordsIt definitely starts to spoil my heart
Well, somewhere there's a war
Well, sometimes there's artIt definitely starts to spoil my heart
Somewhere there's a war
And sometimes there's artWhen I'm awake enough
I'm gonna shake it off
Gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it offOh, shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it offHotels hold me
Thoughts arouse in
So many hearts
Beating in one placeLike a giant
Beast with many souls
No, just a body
Full of holesWhen I'm awake enough
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it offWhen I'm awake enough
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it offI'm gonna shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off
