

Shake It Off

Wilco

Sunlight angles on
Wooden floor at dawn
A ceiling fan is on
Chopping up my dreams What is left of them
I take to sleep again
Where I dare pretend
I'm more than I seem Tears get triggered
Yours remind me
Of the ice
Melting in my glass Finally full again
So I listen for
Your lips to break apart
Into words It definitely starts to spoil my heart
Well, somewhere there's a war
Well, sometimes there's art It definitely starts to spoil my heart
Somewhere there's a war
And sometimes there's art When I'm awake enough
I'm gonna shake it off
Gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off Oh, shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off Hotels hold me
Thoughts arouse in
So many hearts
Beating in one place Like a giant
Beast with many souls
No, just a body
Full of holes When I'm awake enough
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off When I'm awake enough
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off
I'm gonna shake it off I'm gonna shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off
Shake it off
