

Into the Unknown

Sparzanza

My world has been left behind, see the shadows passing by.

The longer will I be a part of this, my exit my demise.

It feels like it's my time to go, feels like I'm walking on burning coal. My memory's flashing right before my eyes,

my demon's in disguise. Everything seems so unreal, everything seems to be broken. All that I know disappears... Into the unknown. I'm lost I'll slowly drift away, the sound has gone now, the skies are grey. I meet the darkness without fear.

I try to say to stay alive. Everything seems so unreal, everything seems to be broken. All that I know disappears...

Everything seems so unreal, everything seems to be broken. All that I know disappears...

Into the unknown.

Everything seems so unreal, now everything seems to be broken. All that I know disappears... Into the unknown.
