The Pretender

Scream Silence

roam inside and read in my own lost memories but i'm too weak and frantic to raise up from my kneesrestricted range of vision let me flee
it's not my own decision so answer meuntil you respond i don't will surrender
until you respond
will lies be the truth
until you respond
you're still the pretender
until you respond
my eyes stare confusedyou ram inside and hidden your sincere reality it seems that it's forbidden to answer me
