Troubled Dreams

Testament

Troubled dreams of a wandering nomad
Damned to be all by myself
I traveled far following bright stars
Through the endless desert sandsStarring off into the sky, down on myself
Loneliness brings my demise, oh what a nightmare
Here we goLeave me be, why must I please them
When I can't even please myself
Deep in thoughts but I still feel so
Lost in endless despairStarring off into the sky, down on myself
Loneliness brings my demise, oh what a nightmare
Yeah here we goAs you soon realize
The night's so black I feel blind
Should I keep wandering on
On and on and onThere's just one thing you should know
I can't take it no more
Two wrongs don't make it right or wrong
I can't take it and in the end you will find me a peace of mindForever lost, severing my thoughts
From the dream I must seek
It's time to end this aggravation
The nomad spirit lives in meStarring off into the sky, down on myself
Loneliness brings my demise, oh what a nightmare
Yeah here we goAs you soon realize
The night's so black, I feel blind
Should I keep wandering on
On and on and onThere's just one thing you should know
I can't take it no more
Two wrongs don't make it right or wrong
I can't take it and in the end you will find me a peace of mind

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/