

still falling

The Morning After Girls

          Last night I woke
          Lost, scared and soaked
          In sweat, I lay in bed
          Still falling from a rooftop
          And I?m still trying to get
          Closer to who I am
          Who I am
          Twilight descends
          Into a dark velvet painting of my life
          Although there?s light
          Redemption seems so distant

          Enchant me with
          The courage to believe
          Won't you grant me
          All the wisdom that I need? Yeah, yeah
          I?m still trying to get
          Closer to who I am
          Who am I?
          Enchant me with the courage to believe
          Won't you grant me all the wisdom that I need?
          Grant me all the wisdom that I need
          And enchant me with the courage to be free, to be free

          Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>