

Silver Girl

Fictionist

And babe, I'm coming for you
Coming to your aid
I wonder how many times
The price must be paid

And I can't talk down the demons
That are swallowing your sleep
I couldn't stand to watch you get carried
Any further out to sea

I feel so helpless
So helpless
But I swear I'm on your side

Silver girl
Silver girl
And I wish that I
Could mend your broken world

And I'm staring at the changing
Faces of a cloud
One minute it seems so clear to me
The next I can't make it out

And I thought I knew the figure
Ah, the figure in the fog
I just hope it wasn't my vain
Imagination all along

I feel so helpless
So helpless
But I tried to understand
Helpless
Helpless
Lines drawn in the sand
By the invisible hand

Silver girl
Silver girl
And I wish that I

Could mend your broken world

I thought I knew you
Things don't seem like they used to
But I can see right through you

Silver girl
Silver girl
And I wish that I
Could mend your broken
Mend your broken
Silver girl
Silver girl
I pray to God
He'll mend your broken world
