

Empty Room

Bardot

Empty Room

I thought I wanted it this way

I thought I really meant the words I said

I had so many reasons in my head

But all I really needed was a little time and space

But that was just a phase

Now it's an empty room

Without you, without you

It's an empty room

To come home, to come home to

It's an empty room

Without you, without you

And this empty room

Just isn't home,

it isn't home without you

Well I guess I'm out of sorts

I must have been completely out of my head

'Cause I feel like a stranger in my own bed

And all the walls and ornaments they seem to offend me won't you forgive me?
