Saboteur (feat. Phonte Coleman)

RJD2

Struck by the fire. And there's no retreat.
Too tangled in your wires, this is my defeat.

I am waiting on forgiveness for the past.
A little empathy is that too much to ask?

For a lifetime I've tried. All they said was be your best
But when their blueprint goes awry, all they say is its your mess

I am waiting on forgiveness for the past.
A little empathy is that too much to ask?

I laid across my bed with open eyes and searched to find out why
I find a way to the darkness but it seems so bright.

For a lifetime I've tried. All they said was be your best
But when their blueprint goes awry, all they say is its your mess

Give it time. One day you'll look into my eyes.
Just when you think that everything's alright.

I will find a way to break our hearts.
Break our hearts.
I will find a way to break our hearts.
Our hearts.

Maybe this is just the part that loves me.

Guillotine of fire. What will it be?

Is it now or never into the Red Sea, oh.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/