No Chain At All

Roy Orbison

Most women want to chain you to promises and such
They take a little freedom each time they let ya touch
She didn't try to chain me that's why I turned around
She let me taste my freedom and now I'm homeward bound
You know I'm headin' on back to her, I'm hearing her call
The strongest chain in the world is no chain at all, at all
That's why I'm headin' on back to her, she won't let me crawl
The strongest chain in the world is no chain at all
At least one pretty woman in every sleepy town
Would bargain with her lovin' and try to tie me down
I took what I was offered like most men probably would But teasin' in my memory was something twice as good
You know I'm headin' on back to her, I'm hearing her call
The strongest chain in the world is no chain at all, at all
That's why I'm headin' on back to her, she won't let me crawl
The strongest chain in the world is no chain at all, at all
That's why I'm headin' on back to her
Headin' on back to her
Headin' on back to her, lovin' my baby
Headin' on back to her

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/