Labels Are for Cans

Inspection 12

Whats with trying to specify what type of music we play?
Why dont you just listen to it and decide if its cool or its gay?
Must you insist on a title? I'd rather not have a name
We could change in a second and be placed in a different frame
Labels are for cans we leave it in your hands consider my advice:
Standards aren't resolved rules are made of salt and broken down in time.
We might turn heavy metal. We might go out on a limb
We might try acapella it all comes from the heart- that's the thing
Habits often lie practices will die its always been that way
Labels are for cans we leave it in your hands a proverb for today:
Keep your defenses up be careful with the names
Never let your guard down cause nothing stays the same
Labels are for cans we leave it in your hands opinions are a waste
Your voice and ugly face are easily erased and vanish in the haze

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/