

Enola / Alone

Manic Street Preachers

The statue of liberty looks so solemn on the TV 100% risk of stepping outside Every second too precious to try From my birth a rellik a killer But all I want to do is live My heart aches for enola No matter how miserable it is Please sing to me a song enola/alone Please take me on home enola/alone I walk in the grass and I feel some peace at last Like memory it has disappeared I'll take a picture of you I walk on the beach and for once I feel some ease To remember how good you looked Naked and lonely within my fears Please sing to me a song enola/alone Please take me on home enola/alone
