

Then There's You

Day26

*Verse 1*

Woke up stressin yesterday
Went to sleep the same way
First thing that I saw this morning was your face
I think today I'll be okay, thank you baby

*Chorus*

Amazing how just one kiss (just one kiss alone)
Makes the drama not exist
And when the walls start closing in, then there's you
Rescuing me
And when the world start crumbling, then there's you
If I got nothing else there's always you

*Verse 2*

You and a soothing massage
After I been working hard
You cater to my needs unselfishly
And in this crazy world you are my sanity, I thank you baby

*Chorus*

Amazing how just one kiss
Makes the drama not exist
And when the walls start closing in, then there's you
Rescuing me
And when the world starts crumbling, then there's you
If I got nothing else there's always you

*Bridge*

Ooh she's the only one that know's how to calm my nerves
(Thank you baby)
Ooh how my mind goes nobody else knows but her, but her

*Chorus*

And when the walls start closing in, then there's you
Baby you rescued me
And when the world starts crumbling, then there's you
Baby it was you
And when the walls start closing in, then there's you
And when the world starts crumbling, then there's you

If I got nothing else there's always you
It's always you
