Something To Believe

David Choi

She says I've seen it all
But nothing's spoken
Pretense begins to fall
And words are broken
I know it's just better this way, I'll do my best
But I don't wanna end up the same as all the rest
We just wanna believe in something to make them feel at home
Wanna believe in something so they feel less alone
Will you be my answer now to everything?
Be my answer now to everything
She says we had it all
But now it's missing
Progress slowed to a crawl
But now we're listening
Some say it's just better this way, just do your best

But I don't wanna end up the same (cause they)
We just wanna believe in something to make them feel at home
Wanna believe in something so they feel less alone
Will you be my answer now to everything?
Be my answer now so I feel less alone
We'll bring them down
We'll bring these walls to the ground without a sound
We'll bring them down
Believe in something so they feel less alone
We just wanna believe in something to make them feel at home
Wanna believe in something so they feel less alone
Will you be my answer now to everything?
Be my answer now so I feel less alone
So I feel less alone
