Holocaust of Giants

Rasputina

When I was nine years old
Way back in Ohio
The hired man was digging up a well
On my father's land
He found a fossil thereIt was a massive bone
And since then I've known
That a race of giants lived in the northern hemisphere
Ten thousand years ago they lived right hereIt seems incredible
But yet it's the truth
That a fossilized and petrified
Calcified primeval bruteWas turned to stone
But he was not alone
There were hundreds of them walking on the sand toward river
Even giants think they'll always live foreverWhere a stream once flowed
Into the Ohio
Everything was turned to stone
The bible speaks of this
There were giants in our midst
But they slaughtered one another in a meaningless war
Thank your lucky stars that we don't do that anymoreThat gravel-encrusted skull
That was found on a river shoal
Double rows of very sharp teeth
The massive jaw measured twenty-five feetWell it's turned to stone
There were hundreds of them walking on the sand toward river
Even giants think they'll always live foreverThe bible speaks of this
There were giants in our midst
But they slaughtered one another in a meaningless war
Thank your lucky stars that we don't do that anymoreThat gravel-encrusted skull
That was found on a river shoal
Double rows of very sharp teeth
The massive jaw measured twenty-five feetWell it's turned to stone
There were hundreds of them walking on the sand toward the river
Even giants think they'll always live forever
