When the Love Is Gone

Ida Corr

When the love is gone
There's nothing you can do but feel the pain
If only I could only feel the freedom that I've gained
I could be happier then and start againWhen the love is gone
Instead of feelin' sorry, feelin' strong
If I could put it all behind were it belongs
And find that long lost friend and myself againWhen the love is gone
And the memories tag along
When you know that you gotta go on
Yes, you gotta be strongWhen the love is gone
There's no shoulder to cry upon
You gotta hold your head on high
When it says goodbyeWhen the love is gone
There's no one in the wings to take you home
But there's a strength one gets when goin' it alone
To make you wiser when it comes againWhen the love is gone
And the memories tag along
When you know that you gotta go on
Yes, you gotta be strongWhen the love is gone
There's no shoulder to cry upon
You gotta hold your head on high
When it says goodbyeAnd the moon reminds me of your love
And the rain reminds me of your love
Sit and watch the sun go down, it's you I'm thinking of
But I won't run back for all the stars above, noWhen the love is gone
And the memories tag along
When you know that you gotta go on
Yes, you gotta be strongWhen the love is gone
There's no shoulder to cry upon
You gotta hold your head on high
When it says goodbyeYou gotta hold your head on high
When it says goodbye
