

Hurricane (feat. Eyes That Lie)

Mat Zo

Slamming doors, uncover lies
Shifting loyalties and tearful eyes
A blank facade I try to sustain
Hiding from a twisting hurricane Your angry letters slipped under my door
Words screaming up and off the floor
Through the storm I hear your voice
Does it all come down to my choice? Dark skies shifting, heavy rain lifting,
A hurricane is twisting, throughout the night
Black wings beneath, history repeating
A moment, fleeting, through outside your eyes Hurricane I hear no sound, the storm, must be at rest
How easily I fall for the same old test
Staring through cloudy windows
Listening intently to the sounds we love Dark skies shifting, heavy rain lifting
A hurricane is twisting, throughout the night
Black wings beneath, history repeating
A moment, fleeting, through outside your eyes
