

Children Of The Sun

Daniel Baron

We are forever young
In vain we run from the night
Dreaming of Avalon
We're staring at the skyWe are children of the sun
We stay forever young
Our light is burning brighter than the wicked things that we have done
But now love has begun
And we are still the children of the sun
Children of the sunWe are forever young
We're walking on beams of light
The stars are becoming one
We sing 'cause we are aliveWe are children of the sun
We stay forever young
Our light is burning brighter than the wicked things that we have done
But now love has begun
And we are still the children of the sunChildren of the sunChildren of the sun
We are children of the sun
We stay forever young
Our light is burning brighter than the wicked things that we have done
But now love has begun
