

Essence of Presence

Causeries

Window shoppin' with the homecomers daughter
In the bask glow of moonlight we sang
It's a mystery being around you
And my wall is not gonna stand I remember the Timberwick candles,
How the wild, wild ambition was tamed
But we were not always like this, now were we?
No, we were not always like this at all The light seems to fade with everyone else
But I'm still on fire
And time was thief to get in between
My love and yours x2 I've been silent like the challenger deep and I know, that I know, that I know, that I'm
Not in your thoughts anymore
But I like to feel that I was at some point
