

Drifting

Yellowcard

When I look into your eyes
I can see such a sad man in disguise
Waiting, wishing, dreaming, drifting from me
I can see, hurts my heart to see you cry
Waiting, wishing, dreaming, drifting from me I don't know you anymore
I wish I knew what's wrong
Can't we try to slam that door?
Start a brand new song I know you're lonely and you cry, wondering why
I know you're lonely but if once
You could help me understand
What it takes to be a man Look back on what you said
And the life you led
Is it what you dreamed
When you were young like me? And now it's time you took something back
Just for the sake of your mind, your mind, your mind When I look into your eyes
I can see life has buried you alive
Waiting, wishing, dreaming, drifting from me And you can't breathe
Heart's as big as ocean's wide
